Our clients

Your brand, your remit and your people.

We recognise the importance of fully understanding both your industry and your requirements; this enables us to create a strategy for finding you great people and offering insight and opinion that will assist your decision-making process.

We know that the happiest and most productive individuals are often not searching for new jobs, so we have adopted a process which allows us to identify, target and approach successful and talented people on your behalf.

Our objective is to ensure that we fill your vacancies, and focus as much on your company culture and values, as the candidate's skill, experience and attitude to guarantee the likelihood of a long-lasting placement.

We set ourselves extremely high standards and throughout the recruitment process, we are thorough, consistent, accessible, and abide by all relevant legislation.

Testimonials

We pride ourselves on our successes and recommendations.

We don't go searching for praise, but when people take the time to give us feedback, we like to promote it.

Couldn't have asked for more! Luke took a lot of time finding out about me, where I was at currently and what kind of job would be perfect for me. Within 45 minutes I had 2 interviews booked! One of which I ended up taking the job for.

Worth Recruitment go that extra mile, I even dealt with Guy on a separate matter which they didn't specialise in but he helped out regardless. I would highly recommend - If you're looking for a job, make sure you speak to these guys.

JW

I cannot praise the team at Worth Recruiting highly enough. We had tried to find staff through advertising on a job website and even had an advert in the office window but had very little response and we were very disappointed with the quality of people we were seeing. Guy and his team were able to source and put in front of us three very suitable candidates, all of who would potentially have been a great fit. All of the candidates had been interviewed and all lived within easy reach of the office which was a priority. Great work!

RH

Gareth Vaughan at Worth Recruiting was absolutely stellar. Incredibly helpful, responsive and always friendly, and he understood very quickly the type of companies and roles that would be suited to skills and experience. By far the stand-out recruiter I dealt with during my hunt for a job during these tricky times. Thank you Gareth.

ES

Worth Recruiting have been outstanding in finding the right people for my company. They have a clear understanding of my business and of the type of people I need to make my team work effectively. Every CV I was sent was for a candidate I was able to consider seriously and as a result, I have used the company to make several placements as I have expanded my brand. I now use Guy Hodge and his team whenever I recruit because I have recognised that their recruitment process saves me time and money.
